Ergonis Software today announces Typinator 5.9, the last maintenance update for the popular text expander for OS X. Typinator 5 is a powerful, yet elegantly simple solution that boosts your productivity by automating the process of inserting frequently used text and auto-correcting typing errors. Ergonis Software is preparing for the launch of the soon-to-come Typinator 6.0. This new major version will come with unprecedented features that take text expansion to the next level.

Hagenberg, Austria - Ergonis Software today is proud to announce the release of Typinator 5.9, which is the last maintenance update for the popular text expander Typinator 5. Before preparing for the launch of the next major version 6 of Ergonis' highly acclaimed text expansion software Typinator, the company today announced a maintenance release that incorporates several minor bug fixes and improves compatibility with certain third-party applications like Aperture, MacGiro, Mellel, and others.

"We don't want to force our customers to pay for an upgrade to Typinator 6 to get these remaining minor issues fixed, so we decided to offer a last 5.x maintenance update, which is free for the whole Typinator 5 customer base" said Christoph Reichenberger, CEO of Ergonis Software. "And while you are reading this announcement, we are already busy preparing for the launch of Typinator 6.0. This new major version will come with unprecedented features that take text expansion to the next level. Said that, I am happy to announce that the grace period for Typinator 6 has already started, so all Typinator purchases - new licenses and upgrades alike - made from now on qualify for a free upgrade to Typinator 6."

Typinator is a powerful, yet elegantly simple solution that boosts your productivity by automating the process of inserting frequently used text and auto-correcting typing errors. Across all applications, it detects specific sequences of typed characters and automatically replaces them with text snippets, graphics, URLs, dates and special characters.
