

Grantwood Technology Ships RunWallet - Arm Wallet for the iPod Shuffle

Published on 08/03/09

Grantwood Technology, LLC today announced the release of the RunWallet, an armband product designed to comfortably carry IDs, bank/credit cards, car keys, hotel keys, cash/coins during exercise, with the added ability to carry the iPod Shuffle. The RunWallet can be used as a fitness wallet attached to the supplied armband or simply attached to your shoe, attached to a belt or simply placed in your pocket. The RunWallet is also compatible with our other tuneband armband products.

Middleburg Hts., Ohio - Grantwood Technology, LLC today announced the release of the RunWallet, an armband product designed to comfortably carry IDs, emergency contact information, bank cards, credit cards, car keys, car remotes, house keys, hotel keys, cash/coins during exercise, with the added ability to carry the iPod Shuffle.

The RunWallet is a soft, neoprene arm wallet that can easily accommodate the above items in a secure Velcro(R) closure. Each RunWallet consists of a comfortable and flexible armband strap that can accommodate both large and small arms. We also have extra large and extra small armbands available upon request. As a fitness wallet, the RunWallet can be attached to the supplied armband, or can easily be attached to your shoe, attached to a belt or simply placed in a pocket. Whether you seek a running wallet, fitness wallet, or arm wallet, the RunWallet will fit your needs.

The RunWallet also has an attachment band to allow items to be clipped to it, including the iPod Shuffle.

The RunWallet's armband is made with the same material as our highly acclaimed tuneband for iPod and tuneband for iPhone. Therefore, you already own one of our tunebands for iPod or tunebands for iPhone or plan to purchase one, you can accommodate both items on the same armband.

"The RunWallet is a natural extension to our armband products," explained Michael Banks, MD, co-founder and CEO of Grantwood Technology, LLC. "There is no better way to carry items such as keys, cash or IDs when working out."
