

Koingo Announces Project Canvas 1.0 - A Presentation Tool

Published on 08/07/09

Koingo Software is pleased to introduce Project Canvas 1.0 for Mac OS X and Windows. Project Canvas is a multimedia presentation tool, much like industry giant PowerPoint, but comes at the fraction of the cost. Create click-by-click adventure games, interactive tutorials, storybooks, school presentations, and more. Sporting a cross-platform compatible file format, Project Canvas files can also contain an unlimited number of cards and buttons.

Kamloops, British Columbia - Koingo Software is pleased to introduce Project Canvas! It is a multimedia presentation tool, much like industry giant PowerPoint (or for those two remember it: HyperCard), but comes at the fraction of the cost. Create click-by-click adventure games, interactive tutorials, storybooks, school presentations, and more!

Sporting a cross-platform compatible file format, Project Canvas files can also contain an unlimited number of cards and buttons. Buttons can perform a variety of actions from getting and setting variables, playing movies, and transitioning between cards with visual effects to playing sounds, playing music, speaking text, prompting the user for feedback and numerous other options.

One of the most versatile features of Project Canvas is the ability to export a Stand Alone copy of a stack. The stack will be exported as an executable file that can be run without having to have Project Canvas installed! In addition, specify special kiosk-style features like hiding the menubar or making the stack run full screen.

Project Canvas is shareware, and can be downloaded for a free 15 day trial from our web site. Licenses are $29.95 (USD) to unlock the full version. Mac OS X 10.4 or later, or Windows XP or later, is required to use the software.

Utility Package owners can upgrade their Utility Package to include Project Canvas for only $9.95 (USD) via the Upgrades section of our store. More information about our Utility Package - a bundle which includes all 17 Koingo software titles for only $79.95 - can be found on our web site.
