Chico, California - PPL Development Company LLC today is pleased to announce the release of Brainwaves 1.0 for Mac OS X. The top selling Brainwave app in the US, Canada, Australia, UK, Japan, and Hong Kong, now has version 1.0 available on Mac Store. Brainwaves is an audio brain stimulation app that uses scientifically proven Isochronic Tones and Binaural Beats to bring the users into altered states of mind. Users around the world use Brainwaves as a sleep aid, dream inducer, creativity booster, and much more.

The secret to Brainwaves effectiveness lies in the Isochronic Tones and Binaural Beats which people have been using for decades to improve brain function, mental and physical health, and general therapy. The tones and audio recordings in the Brainwaves app have been meticulously created at 320 kbps, delivering the highest quality experience for the user.

While other Binaural Beats apps contain only a handful of tones primarily focusing on sleep and concentration, Brainwaves offers the option of purchasing over 80 high quality tones covering the entire spectrum of healing a user may seek. Each of these tones has been crafted to address a specific problem, mood, or mental need so users can find the exact therapy they desire. No other app offers the range and selection of healing tones Brainwave makes available.
