Williamsburg, Virginia - Hunter Research and Technology is excited to offer its flagship augmented reality navigation app Theodolite for 50% off during a special sale. Theodolite is great for outdoor enthusiasts, professionals, students, teachers, explorers, and high-tech gadget lovers.

Theodolite is a multi-function viewfinder for iPhone and iPad that combines a compass, two-axis inclinometer, rangefinder, GPS, map, nav calculator, tracker, and geo-tag photo/movie camera into one indispensable app. Uses are endless, and the app is great for hiking, boating, hunting, golf, outdoor sports, sightseeing, navigation, and finding your way around. Theodolite also has professional grade features, and is used extensively by surveyors, geologists, architects, engineers, competitive sportsmen, first responders, military personnel, and search and rescue workers around the world.

Theodolite was featured at Apple's October 2013 Special Event, where Apple CEO Tim Cook showed "all of the amazing ways our customers are using iPads". Theodolite was shown being used atop the Great Wall of China, as an iPad user surveyed the amazing mountain scenery and ancient architecture around him. Find out why Apple included Theodolite among the most amazing apps available. Where will you take it on your next adventure?
