

ZappTek Adds Wikipedia to iSpeak It with Version 3.5

Published on 08/26/09

ZappTek today is proud to announce iSpeak It 3.5, its popular file-to-audio tool. iSpeak It serves as a perfect companion to the iPod or iPhone. iSpeak It loads Word, PDF, Pages, RTF, AppleWorks, text and HTML documents. It downloads Wikipedia articles, weather forecasts, driving directions, and arbitrary web pages as well as RSS feeds. iSpeak It then uses the Mac's text-to-speech engine and iTunes to convert the text into an MP3/AAC track. Version 3.5 adds Wikipedia article downloading.

Winnipeg, Canada - ZappTek today is proud to announce its very popular file-to-audio tool, iSpeak It 3.5. Load Word, PDF, Pages 2, RTF, AppleWorks, Text, HTML documents or RSS feeds, and using the Mac's built-in text-to-speech capabilities, convert them into MP3/AAC tracks in iTunes. From there it's a quick sync to iPod or iPhone.

- * Download RSS feeds and keep track of local weather with up-to-date forecasts
- * Download Wikipedia articles and learn on the go
- * Download driving directions and listen to them on iPod or iPhone

Users may open any text document or select any text and load it via the Services menu. A toolbar provides easy access to all of the load menu options and the transferring of a document to iTunes.

iSpeak It 3.5 sports a number of important fixes:

- * Wikipedia article downloading
- * When automatically transferring to iTunes you can now choose to automatically close the window after the transfer completes

Minimum Requirements:

- * Mac OS X version 10.4 or higher
- * Web Services require an Internet connection
- * PDF processing requires pdftotext (free download)

Getting Started:

To install iSpeak It, drag it to your Applications folder or wherever you'd like to keep it. Before transferring any text, use the Speech panel in the System Preferences to select the voice to use during conversion. iSpeak It uses the voice and defined settings for all of its processing. Experiment with the voices to see which sounds best.

iSpeak It also provides advanced text replacement capabilities. There are a number of phrases that Mac Voices will not convert properly. iSpeak It can define rules that identify problem words and an appropriate (phonetically correct) replacement for them. It will even automatically apply the rules before transferring a document to iTunes.

Purchasing iSpeak It:

iSpeak 3.5 remains priced at $19.95 (USD) with free update for existing users of version 3.x. The iSpeak It trial allows for converting the first 1000 characters of any text. Users may purchase the bundle, which includes iPresent It and iPDA, for $44.95 (USD); a $13 savings. Users can purchase from within iSpeak It by selecting "Purchase iSpeak It..." in the application menu or visit ZappTek online.
