

264 Commercial Use Fonts Added to Premium Fonts Collection

Published on 12/17/14

MacAppware today announces the addition of 264 new commercial use fonts to its Premium Fonts collection for creative Mac users. Each premium font in this collection just came off our design floor so you will not find them anywhere else. Each font is in OpenType font format and can be used for any personal and business project. Western European international character support is standard for every premium font and new fonts are delivered at no extra charge to Premium Fonts subscription customers.

San Francisco, California - MacAppware, a division of 128bit Technologies, is proud to announce today the addition of 264 new commercial use fonts to its Premium Fonts collection for creative Mac users. Need a fresh design perspective? Tired of using the same old looking fonts? Need to change up the text style in a presentation, print project or a graphic design project? Download brand new premium font designs that just came off our development floor. This collection now includes 147 original font families, with a total of 1,841 fonts in all.

Each font is in OpenType font format and can be used for any personal and business project. Western European international character support is standard for every premium font, and NEW FONTS ARE DELIVERED AT NO EXTRA CHARGE to Premium Fonts subscription customers when available. The Mac App Store version includes the subscription to receive all new fonts released in the Premium Fonts collection. Premium Fonts has grown substantially in the past two years, beginning with only 54 font families and 702 total fonts!

147 Unique Font Families - Each Font Family Includes:
Regular, Bold, Italic, Bold Italic, Condensed, Condensed Bold, Condensed Italic, Expanded, Expanded Bold, Expanded Italic, Wide, Wide Bold, Wide Italic.

Each premium font in this collection just came off our design floor so you will not find them anywhere else. This collection is completely different from the 1000 OpenType Fonts collection offered by 128bit Technologies, as well as all Free Fonts collections (we never overlap or duplicate the fonts in each of our collections!).
