You can choose from the included designed questions from different categories, or create your own questions and add funny photos.

Munich, Germany - Bob Schlund Studios today is proud to announce the release of Quizzly 1.0, its new quiz app developed for iPad. Quizzly offers you the ability to create special quizzes with personalized questions to send as a unique present to your friends and family. Create funny quizzes with your own questions, pictures, personal notes and gifts.

Give special quizzes to special people for Christmas, anniversaries or just to bring back old, funny and unforgettable memories. Make one for your children or parents and show them how much you care. Quizzly as a present is personal, unique and perfect as a small gift which will bring a smile in your friends' faces.

You can choose from the included designed questions from different categories, or create your own questions and add funny photos. Activate up to 3 jokers to make it easier for your friends. You can even personalise it more by writing a greeting card and by giving away an additional present in the end of the quiz.

"A priceless self-created gift is more valuable than anything in the world. It tells stories and creates unforgettable memories. It makes us human. Nothing else matters," said Iman Sheikholmolouki, app developer. "Quizzly was developed by Iman Sheikholmolouki, and Felix Belau, a solopreneur from Munich with the help of two friends."
