Alexandria, Virginia - Today Vito Technology Inc. announced that their Apple Design Award winning stargazing guide Star Walk now works on Apple Watch to provide the most personal stargazing experience yet. Seamlessly integrated with the iPhone Star Walk app, the Apple Watch app presents the most interesting astronomical events seen from users location just in time.

Star Walk is a handy astronomy guide that shows celestial objects (stars, constellations, satellites, etc.) in the exact positions on the sky above, providing comprehensive information about them. It helps anyone with any level of experience in astronomy find their way across the sky, determine where to look for any chosen object, rewind or fast-forward time to see how celestial bodies move. It inspires curiosity about the Universe and helps understand amazing cosmic phenomena.

The Apple Watch Star Walk app alerts users of upcoming astronomical events and anything interesting going on in the sky seen from their location. Users can schedule a reminder for the next spectacular meteor shower, the International Space Station flying over their location, or catch the perfect night for astrophotography.

Features of Star Walk Apple Watch app

- * Calendar of upcoming astronomical events
- * Current phase of the moon
- * Time of sunset and sunrise
