

The iPhone App Review Posts the Top 10 Apps for Your Summer Vacation

Published on 06/11/15

The iPhone App Review has just published the "Top 10 Apps for Your Summer Vacation," a popular list series that guides iPhone and iPad users to the best apps and games available. The apps included the list are Hipmunk, Last Minute Travel Deals, Packing Pro, Triplt, ShutterBee, Google Translate, Roadtrippers, XE Currency, Perfect Traveller Tours and TripAdvisor. The selection criteria were that the apps are among the very best for folks either planning or already on their 2015 summer vacation.

Danbury, Connecticut - The iPhone App Review, a DBO LLC website, has just released its latest "Top Ten" apps list. This popular list series guides iPhone and iPad users to the best apps and games available. The latest one is the Top 10 Apps for Your Summer Vacation.

The creation of the list was driven by The iPhone App Review's commitment to providing iOS users with guidance on what apps and games are worth looking at and which ones may not be worth their time. In the case of this Top Ten list, the additional criteria were that the apps are among the very best for folks either planning or already on their 2015 summer vacation.

Planning an going on vacation, while certainly something we all look forward to, can also be quite stressful. Did I pack everything I'll need? How will I know where to eat? What's the best hotel at the best price? In the words of Jim Desposito, Co-Founder and President of DBO LLC, "We are always excited to share with our loyal readers the fruits of the amazing talent and creativity that iOS developers are bringing to the table. These apps stand out among the best apps available to make your planning and vacation as trouble free and enjoyable as possible."

The apps selected for the list are: Hipmunk, Last Minute Travel Deals, Packing Pro, Triplt, ShutterBee, Google Translate, Roadtrippers, XE Currency, Perfect Traveller Tours and TripAdvisor.

With the number of apps in the App Store into the millions, it is critical that users get honest, thoughtful and reliable information about the apps they are considering. App reviews are part of this process but only if they're from a qualified and reputable source, such as The iPhone App Review.

"We admire all the developers who turn out such quality work." said Jim Desposito, "Our Top Apps and Top Games lists help users sift through all the noise and get right to the best ones, even if they cost a bit to download. In fact, our lists are especially important when there is a download fee since users are wary of paying for an app up front without being able to try it before paying."
