Cincinnati, Ohio - The Lynest Company is proud to announce the release of Cownado! 1.0, available today for iOS devices. Cownado! features simplistic tap and touch game mechanics that anyone can enjoy but only few will be able to master. The goal is to keep a spinning cow inside a tornado. By tapping the screen once a wood platform will begin to rotate around the play area (an aerial view down the center of a tornado). If the player taps the screen a second time, a cow will drop. The goal is to bounce this cow off of the rotating platform inside the tornado. This is achieved by tapping the screen to change the direction in which the platform rotates. Each time the cow is successfully bounced off the wood platform the player is rewarded a point.

Included in the gameplay is a power-up. By doing a shake gesture on the device, "Bertha" is triggered. Bertha is a larger cow that is easier to bounce between the wood platforms. Bertha's can be earned, unlocked, and even purchased through in-app purchases. The game features inviting artwork, straight forward menu navigation, six unique playable characters at launch, one "Bertha" power up, twenty-seven in-game awards, twenty-eight Game Center achievements, a handful of "punny" classes to reach, online leaderboards, Facebook integration to share scores, and in-app purchases.

Cownado! Is a fun enjoyable experience to kill time for casual gamers and a challenging rewarding experience for the hardcore players looking to achieve gold on all achievements. The game was created by Kenny Lykins and Matt Ernest, with artwork by Emily Turner.
