

Parenting app Baby Monitor 3G introduces new Activity log feature

Published on 08/12/15

Baby Monitor 3G is a popular cross platform app for parents who want to stay in touch with their children, even when the little ones are sleeping. The app is available for iOS, Mac and Android operating systems, compatible in any combination and is used by more than half million parents worldwide. A recently released update brought new a special feature of Activity log that allows parents to retrieve information on what was happening while they were off their phone.

Prague, Czech Republic - TappyTaps has released a new version of their Baby Monitor 3G parenting app. Hear every noise, stream live video, and soothe your child remotely. In this update they launched a new feature that had been thought about for a long time - the Activity log. Activity log allows parents to see what was happening when they were away from their phone.

"Some parents were writing us that they missed baby noises when they were away from their phone (e.g. opening door to postman). They were also worried what was happening in baby room. This spearheaded the need to develop Activity log. As a result, parents will always know what was happening to their baby and even more. Parents can actually replay sounds they missed and go through past monitoring sessions." says Jindrich Sarson, CEO of TappyTaps.

Features of Activity log:

- * Overview of current or past monitorings
- * Replay of all baby noises on the parent device
- * Possibility to track sleeping patterns of baby
- * Export of every sound as MP3 file to email or any cloud service
- * Secure - all noises are stored on parents device only

Supported Languages:

- * English, French, German, Czech, Spanish, Dutch, Italian, Russian, Korean, Japanese, Swedish, Polish and Portuguese
