Spokane, Washington - PhatWare Corporation, a leading professional software and application developer, announces the immediate availability of WritePad Pro 3.1, the advanced word processing, note-taking, and document management app which also takes full advantage of PhatWare's state-of-the-art handwriting recognition technology. WritePad Pro features improved handwriting recognition keyboard, which can be used in any iPad or iPhone app, and the Today screen extension allowing easy access to recent document from the iPhone Today screen.

About WritePad Pro:

WritePad Pro, which builds upon WritePad's powerful handwriting recognition technology, adds rich text editing which can be combined with images and custom drawings. The app also integrates with various system resources such as email, contacts, maps, iCloud, social networks, and others. WritePad Pro creates HTML and PDF documents and can open text, Microsoft Word, RTF, HTML and plain text files for editing. For those who collaborate with people in other countries, WritePad Pro offers superior integration with an online language translator.

To speed-up note-taking and text formatting, WritePad Pro offers advanced shorthand features, which enables users to format text using written commands. Users can scribble shorthand commands to change the font, paragraph, and other formatting options, insert emotions emoticons and user-defined text blocks, invoke translator, maps and other system resources, and much more. Documents created with WritePad Pro can further be synchronized with Box, Dropbox, Evernote, Google Drive, iCloud, and Microsoft OneDrive.

Pricing and Availability:

WritePad Pro 3.1 is a universal app for both iPhone and iPad running iOS 8 or iOS 9 and is available in the iTunes App Store at a reduced price of only $4.99 USD (regular price is $9.99). The new version is a free update for existing WritePad Pro users. For more information about the app and to purchase or download the update, please visit PhatWare online.
