

Scuba Diving Challenge now available on Apple TV

Published on 03/10/16

Texas based developer, Magnin & Associates has released Scuba Diving Challenge 1.0, their new game title on Apple TV. Previously available on iOS, Android, and Windows 10 (Phone & PC), Scuba Diving Challenge brings the excitement of scuba diving and underwater search to your Apple TV. Turn and tilt your remote to swim towards an item. Then click the touchpad to pick it up. The game features four challenging levels. Share your accomplishments with Facebook, Twitter, email, or instant messaging.

Farmers Branch, Texas - Magnin & Associates has announced its recent Scuba Diving Challenge 1.0 (iOS, Android, and Windows 10 Phone & PC) is now also available on Apple TV. Scuba Diving Challenge brings the excitement of scuba diving and underwater search to your Apple TV. Turn and tilt your remote to swim towards an item. Then click the touchpad to pick it up. The game features four challenging levels.

The game was produced by Ed Magnin, programmed and level design by Willie Johnson, Jr, with graphics by Antonio Smith. Matt Campana created the music, and the excellent audio effects.

According to Ed Magnin, "This release is part of our strategy of releasing some of our popular iOS games on Apple TV, where we can show off their excellent graphics and sound in a larger format." Similarly the recently released Windows 10 version allows play on everything from a Windows Phone to a variety of PC configurations using mouse, keyboard, touchpad or even Xbox One controller.

Note: There are currently no direct links to the Apple TV App Store. The Apple TV App Store is currently only viewable from an Apple TV. To quickly locate the game, just open the App Store on your Apple TV and search for either "Magnin" or "Scuba Diving Challenge."
