

Finger Dungeon - Clever, quick and elegant

Published on 03/14/16

Indie developer, David Zobrist today introduces Finger Dungeon 1.0 an innovative game title for iOS and Android devices. Finger Dungeon is a one-touch game and your job is to hold your finger on the screen as long as you can. Make your way through the currently 14 levels of the finger labyrinth. Triggering levers, turning off traps and collecting coins. As you reach new levels, new tiles and creatures will appear in the maze, so be careful and don't look back.

Berlin, Germany - Indie developer, David Zobrist today introduces Finger Dungeon 1.0 an innovative game title for iOS and Android devices. Finger Dungeon is a one-touch game and your job is to hold your finger on the screen as long as you can. Make your way through the currently 14 levels of the finger labyrinth. Triggering levers, turning off traps and collecting coins. As you reach new levels, new tiles and creatures will appear in the maze, so be careful and don't look back.

The first thing you realise when you start playing Finger Dungeon is that its unexpectedly fair and gives you enough time to learn the game step by step. But don't get too overconfident as quickly the difficulty rises perfectly as you go. The energetic soundtrack helps you perfectly getting in the zone while playing. And here some tips by us when you start out:

How to play:

1. Keep your finger on the screen.
2. Do NOT touch the lava.
3. Collect the coins.
4. Reach the goal line to win.

Advanced Tips:

1. Levers open doors, so no need to risk getting hurt.
2. Avoid the fire projectiles of the cannons.
3. Use the cannon projectiles to destroy the finger-eating monsters.
4. There are shortcuts which you can use between unconnected lava tiles by moving carefully and quickly between their edges.

Overall is Finger Dungeon a fresh new approach to the mobile reflex gaming world and we are patiently waiting for new levels to arrive, as David promises to add over the next coming Months. But hey! Pick it up yourself, give it a whirl and let us know what you think.
