

Top Productivity App Drafts is the Topic of New Screencast Series

Published on 04/26/16

Agile Tortoise today announces a new series of screencasts to help users get more out of their app Drafts. Drafts is a quick capture note taking focused on making it easy to quickly jot down notes and ideas, and send them almost anywhere with powerful, customizable actions. Hosted by David Sparks (aka MacSparky of the Mac Power Users podcast), this screencasts series aims to help Drafts users unlock the power of the app to be more productive on their iPhone, iPads - and even Apple Watch.

North Richland Hills, Texas - Agile Tortoise today is excited to announce a new series of screencasts to help users get more out of their app, Drafts. Drafts is a quick capture note taking app for iPhone and iPad, focused on making it easy to quickly jot down notes and ideas and send them almost anywhere with powerful, customizable actions.

The "Getting To Know Drafts" Screencast series launches today with two installments: An Overview of the Drafts app, and one covering integration with Dropbox. Additional screencasts will be rolled out, one per week, over the next couple of months. Topics include managing and configuring Drafts, as well as integration with services like Evernote, Reminders, Email, iMessage and more.

Hosted by David Sparks (aka MacSparky of the Mac Power Users podcast), this screencast series aims to help Drafts users unlock the power of the app to be more productive on their iPhone, iPads - and even Apple Watch.

To celebrate the launch of the screencast series, Drafts will be on sale for $6.99 USD - 30% off - through May 2, 2016.

Screencasts will be distributed via the Agile Tortoise YouTube channel, Vimeo and on the Agile Tortoise website. Agile Tortoise is dedicated to helping customers get the most out of Drafts and these screencasts build on documentation and online support available to create a launching point for new and existing users to learn about the depth and time-saving power Drafts can offer.
