QuickerTek offers 20% off on their 62 Watt Solar Juicz Solar Panel for MacBooks and iDevices and their 30 Watt Type-C MacBook Solar Panel for 2015-2016 Type-C MacBooks from

August 1st-31st. The 62 Watt Solar Juicz Solar Panel packs an impressive improvement in efficiency of more than 39% over the previous Solar Juicz model. The 30 Watt Type-C MacBook Solar Panel is the only in the world to feature the USB 3.1 adaptor cable which powers and charges the 2015-2016 Apple 12-inch MacBook.

Wichita, Kansas - QuickerTek, the technology leader in mobile power and wireless networking products for Apple computers, is pleased to offer 20% off of their 62 Watt Solar Juicz and 30 Watt 2015-2016 Type-C MacBook solar power chargers.

The 62 Watt Solar Juicz Solar Panel packs an impressive improvement in efficiency of more than 39% over the previous Solar Juicz model as a direct result of using new technology, Copper Indium Gallium (CIGS). Faster charge time is provided by higher wattage (62 Watts vs 55 Watts of previous model). Of course, users can charge the laptop battery while using the Solar Juicz at the same time - something not possible using other solar products. This product comes ready to use right out of the box, including an Apple MagSafe 1 or 2 power cable, allowing it to charge a wide variety of mobile devices from Apple as well as your MacBook.

The 30 Watt Type-C MacBook Solar Panel is the only in the world to feature the USB 3.1 adaptor cable which powers and charges the 2015-2016 Apple 12-inch MacBook. New MacBook users are no longer limited where they choose to enjoy their computer, and, gain the satisfaction of protecting the environment. This new solar product powers the MacBook battery for use even while charging the internal battery. Other photovoltaic products can't offer this same advanced capability. The Type-C MacBook Solar Panel is made with thin film photovoltaic creating a lightweight, foldable design. At only a hair over 11 inches x 6.5 inches folded, and at only 1.3 pounds, it is light and mobile user ready. It is also powerful enough to charge the MacBook as quickly as an Apple AC charger, minimizing downtime.

From August 1st to 31st, QuickerTek is offering 20% off of these products, shaving $240 off of the cost of the 62 Watt Solar Juicz Solar Panel and $60 off of the cost of the 30 Watt 2015-2016 Type-C Solar Panel.
