

Noteboom Tutorials Introduces Pay What You Want Pricing

Published on 03/15/17

Noteboom Tutorials today introduces Pay What You Want Pricing for their membership site, Noteboom Tutorials. Now potential members can decide what they want to pay for membership. Noteboom Tutorials has over 50 tutorials with over 1,500 lessons on the Mac, iPad, iPhone, and Apple Watch. These tutorials are designed to get user up and running on their Apple device and include tutorials on Photos, iMovie, Safari, Mail, Calendar, Notes, Pages, Numbers, Keynote, and more.

Holland, Michigan - Noteboom Productions, Ltd. today is proud to announce Pay What You Want Pricing for their membership site, Noteboom Tutorials. Noteboom Tutorials has over 50 tutorials with over 1,500 easy-to-follow video lessons on the Mac, iPad, iPhone, and Apple Watch designed to give users a better understanding of how to effectively use Apple devices.

Membership is subscription based and includes instant access to all the tutorials. Membership also includes access to new tutorials as they are released. Users can watch the tutorials on any device - Mac, iPad, or iPhone. The site tracks the tutorials users are enrolled in as well as a user's progress by tracking individual lessons as they are viewed. Select tutorial can also be downloaded in the iBooks format for members.

"We are excited to add Pay What You Want pricing to our membership site", said Dan Wassink, President of Noteboom Productions, Ltd. "We work hard to explain all of the features the Mac, iPad, iPhone, and Apple Watch in simple terms and video demonstrations for a reasonable price. We found a good balance in pricing, but we knew we could do more. We decided to turn our pricing around and let the customer decide what they want to pay for membership. No matter what anyone decides to pay, they will have full access and instant access to the site. We look forward to helping many more people use their Macs, iPads, iPhones, and Apple Watches more effectively with our new pricing structure."
