Published on 03/17/17

New York based indie game studio, AppVant Garde Studios today introduces Jumping Jack's Skydive 1.0, its skydiving adventure game for iOS devices. Complete with crazy obstacles, elaborate designs, incredible art, challenging gameplay and seriously fun crash landings, players of all ages can take Jumping Jack on a skydiving adventure through 5 worlds and 50 challenging levels. Users must guide Jack as he jumps out of the plane and drops through crazy and unbelievable obstacles.

New York, New York - AppVant Garde Studios, an indie game studio, today is proud to announce the release of Jumping Jack's Skydive 1.0, its second game title for iPhone and iPad. Jumping Jack's Skydive is a 50 level skydiving adventure game, complete with crazy obstacles, elaborate designs, incredible art, challenging gameplay and seriously fun crash landings.

Players of all ages can take Jumping Jack on a skydiving adventure through 5 worlds and 50 challenging levels. Users must guide Jack as he jumps out of the plane and drops through crazy and unbelievable obstacles like the jumbo planes, hot air balloons, blimps, helicopters, drones, birds, UFOs, Astronauts and more.

For a successful skydive, players must fly Jack down after each plane drop and deploy the parachute at the right time in order to land successfully. The challenge takes Jack through the City, Desert, Ocean, Forest and Space to complete the game and become a Skydiving Master.

"Surprisingly, there aren't many great or memorable skydiving games on the App Store, and AppVant Garde aims to change that," explained CEO Brendan Ward. "We wanted to bring a true

Skydiving classic to the App Store. The game gets more addicting and becomes more surprising as you progress through each world. It's a really fun play and something all fans of extreme experiences are going to enjoy."
