Featuring an easy-to-use, responsive interface and broad support for 4K, 2K, HD, and SD standards, Media 100 delivers broadcast-quality output for tape and file-based workflows. "Media 100 is my firm's video editor of choice in delivering a high level of quality and overall production value to our clients," comments Ben Price, owner, AdSortium Media. Getting access to these types of features normally costs hundreds of dollars."

Professional and Easy-to-Use:

Media 100 offers unrivaled ease-of-use, stability, and image quality, allowing editors to focus on the craft of video editing instead of learning a complex application. Native QuickTime codec support includes ProRes and DVCPRO HD. Supported codecs can be mixed without conversion or rendering.
