Dublin, California - Truckbubba Inc. today is proud to announce the release of Truckbubba 1.6.3, an important feature update to the company's popular truck stop, route planner and weigh station finder app for iOS and Android devices. Truckbubba was developed for North America's truckers with specialized features. Within this app, truckers can effortlessly find nearby Trucking Points of Interest (POI), such as truck stops, rest areas, truck weigh stations, diesel fuel stations, truck parking spaces and more.

Load Board is a freight marketplace that provides free online platform for load posting and load finding. With the help of Truckbubba app, 50,000+ trucks and 70,000+ loads can be searched daily. This feature provides an innovative and affordable solution for freight brokers and carriers to ensure the capacity of truckloads thereby increasing the business revenue.

Trucking is well known as one of the toughest occupations across the world. Roads are unpredictable workplaces where anything could happen, such as contingencies from nasty weather to congestions due to accidents. However, they still work hard without a word of complaint for selfless contribution to the society.

Version 1.6.3 launches with two new features: Speedometer and Load Board. Speedometer is a speed limit alert tool that allows truckers to set the speed limit in advance for highway or city respectively. It protects trucker's life by monitoring whether the truck speed is exceeding the set speed limit or not. The two new features has brought a great deal of convenience to users. It is an excellent app that has helped thousands of truckers to manage their lives conveniently.
