Edinburgh, United Kingdom - Scotland based Studio Plinth today is proud to launch Confuddled, a universal game for iOS. Aimed at casual gamers of all ages Confuddled is that most unusual of things a game of skill. Players clear the grid by sliding tiles to match 3 or more tiles, clearing the tiles to win. 110 levels to clear through skill. Confuddled is free to download.

Confuddled has one goal which is to clear the grid. Slide the tiles on the perpetually scrolling grid to match 3, 4 or 5 tiles, clear all the tiles to win. Don't leave less than 3 tiles of any colour or it is game over. Easy to learn but hard to master, thinking ahead is essential. This is a game of skill, just you against the grid.

Each level is unique, a different shape, a different size. As the levels progress ever more challenging grids are presented with new tiles Splits, Bullseyes and Blockers being introduced to keep you on your toes.
