

TouchCopy for Mac updated to backup iPhone music and messages over Wi-Fi

Published on 11/22/17

UK based Wide Angle Software today announces TouchCopy, an update to the Mac version of their popular iPod and iPhone transfer software. The new version of the TouchCopy adds support for Apple's new iPhone 8 and iPhone X, and enables users to backup all iPhone data such as music, photos and messages wirelessly from iPhones and other iOS devices to a Mac. The update comes just in time for the company's Black Friday Sale, which cuts prices of all software until the end of November.

Stafford, United Kingdom - The developers at Wide Angle Software today announce TouchCopy, an update to the Mac version of their popular iPod and iPhone transfer software. Wide Angle Software is a software development company behind various popular media managements tools, including the iPhone backup software - TouchCopy. TouchCopy is available as a free trial download for Mac and PC computers and can safely backup all iPhone, iPod and iPad files. TouchCopy's backups are more comprehensive than backups made with iTunes or iCloud, as they also contain iTunes synced content such as music and playlists.

The software is relevant to iPhone owners looking to backup all their data before getting a new device over the holidays, as well as to those getting a new Mac computer, as music, messages, contacts, calendars and other files can be safely transferred from from iPhones and iPads to a Mac.

The latest update to the Mac version of TouchCopy grants users the ability to create a complete backup of their iOS device over a Wi-Fi connection, for devices that are capable of Wi-Fi syncing with iTunes. The software was also updated to add compatibility with Apple's latest iPhone models - iPhone 8 and iPhone X.

Here are the main TouchCopy features:

- * Copy Music, Videos and Podcasts from iPod, iPhone or iPad to iTunes, including all song data such as Playlists, Artwork and Ratings
- * Backup and Print iPhone SMS, MMS, iMessages and WhatsApp conversations, including attached media such as images, videos and emojis
- * Transfer Photos and Albums from any iPod, iPhone or iPad
- * Import Contacts, Calendars, and Notes from a device to a contact, calendar and notes manager on a user's computer
- * View and backup iPhone call-logs to computer
- * Save iPhone Voice Mail Messages
- * Use TouchCopy's file manager to enable use of an iPhone or iPad as an external hard drive
- * TouchCopy supports all models of iPod, iPhone and iPad, including Apple's new iPhone 8 and iPhone X

Black Friday Sale - 25% Off All Software:

TouchCopy - usually priced at $29.99 for a 1-year for a single user license, or $39.99 (USD) for a lifetime 2-computer license is now available from only $22.50.
