Kalmar, Sweden - Brattoo Propaganda Software today introduces Photos Tagger, a new addition to their popular applications suite. Did you know that Apple Photos silently analyze all your photos, finding out about the location, the people in them, actual things that are in the photos? Would it not be great if you also had access to all that data? With Photos Tagger you can.

Photos Tagger extracts all the valuable meta data from the Photos database and applies them to your photos as keywords. This way you get all the information that Photos has about your photos and helps you organize your photos. Photos tagger opens up a whole new variety of possibilities when it comes to organizing photos, especially with smart albums. It is time to bring order to your photos. Until now we have only been able to see glimpses of all that metadata in the Photos search but not having complete access. With today's release of Photos Tagger, those days are gone. Photos Tagger is an elegant, easy-to-learn application.

Anders Bjarby, CEO of Brattoo Propaganda Software said, "We have helped hundreds of thousands, if not millions, in over 170 countries with their duplicated photos. Now it is time to take it to the next level and that is organizing your photos. With thousands of photos it is hard to bring order but with good and more importantly, accessible metadata, it is possible to do some magic especially with smart folders."

Key features:

- * Extracts GPS information like nearby attractions, street, city and country
- * Extracts information about date such as month and year
- * Extracts information about the contents of your photos
- * Extracts information about the persons in your photos
- * All extracted information is in your language
- * All extracted information is assigned as keywords to your photos
- * Makes your library much more easy to organize

Brattoo Propaganda Software applications are used by and recommended by Apple Distinguished Educators, Apple Lead Creatives, Apple Creatives, Mac Specialists and Apple Geniuses in many Apple Stores, Apple Care and Apple Support worldwide.

"Being a mom of three kids it is amazing to have all those photos but it is also impossible to find the time to organize them." said Gwen Davis, one early adopter of Photos Tagger. "So I was convinced to test Photos Tagger and WOW! Within minutes I had created my first smart album containing the photos of our kids during our trip to Disneyland (but not any photos of me eating popcorn) which I instantly shared with my mother in law. Just amazing!"
