IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Indev Software announces the release of MailTags 2.1. MailTags 2.1 introduces Incoming Reply Tagging to your inbox. This new feature automatically maintains tags in message threads as new responses are received, even if your correspondent does not use MailTags. New mail rules criteria can now evaluate tags of originating messages when receiving responses and act accordingly. Now you can tag an outgoing mail as "expect reply" and when you receive one, Mail's rules can tag and color the message so it will be highlighted in your inbox. MailTags 2.1 also provides numerous improvements in IMAP synchronization, stability, and interface. A full list of improvements are located at <http://www.indev.ca/MailTagsReleaseNotes.html>

MailTags transforms Apple's Mail.app into a powerful email organization tool with its ability to tag email messages for organization work flows, sophisticated searches and integration with external application such as DEVONthink and iGTD.
