

Share your Mac screen on a Sharp TV

Published on 06/19/19

AirBeamTV today releases Mirror for Sharp TV, its new screen mirroring app exclusively developed for Mac computers. Easily mirror the screen of your Mac to any Sharp TV models from 2012 and onward. No wires and no additional hardware is necessary. You can also stream individual video files from your Mac to your TV. Also, this app works without the need for an Apple TV or Airplay. The app also works on Sharp Android TVs and Sharp Roku TVs.

Naarden, Netherlands - Today, AirBeamTV presents the new screen mirroring app for Mac computers exclusively developed for Sharp Smart TVs.

Sharp back in the game:

Last month, Sharp announced it agreed to establish a new form of partnership with TV manufacturer Hisense Limited to re-enter television business in the U.S.A. market the second half of 2019. Sharp will try to get a foothold in the growing market of cutting edge 4K/8K televisions.

Screen mirroring app for Mac:

AirBeamTV, global market leader in screen mirroring apps for Apple products, announced they have launched this new mirroring app for Mac users to provide existing and future Sharp TV owners a cutting-edge mirroring app.

According to the company's CEO, Jan Van Ottele, AirBeamTV is adapting to the changing landscape of Smart TVs in the US market. "We have received a lot of requests from Mac users to provide a high-quality screen mirroring app for newer TV brands. With our app, Mac owners can share videos, photos and apps from any Mac device to Sharp TV models from 2012 and onward". Important to notice is that the app also supports Sharp TVs running on the Android TV or Roku TV operating systems, or Sharp TVs using the Aquos sub brand.

Device Requirements

- * Macbook, MacBook Pro, iMac, Mac Mini & Mac Pro
