

GiftList Launches Version 2.0 to Help Organize Gift Giving for Christmas

Published on 11/02/19

Grappetite Pvt Ltd announces the launch of GiftList 2.0 for iOS and Android devices. GiftList is a complete gift planning solution. It allows users to create and share lists with friends/family for them to talk about and reserve gifts so the user always gets what they're hoping for. With GiftList's new Google Chrome & Mozilla Firefox Extensions, saving gift ideas is made simple and easy directly on a web browser.

Englewood, CO - MyGiftListApp.com is pleased to release an updated and improved version of their gift planning app introduced late last year. GiftList 1.2 can be found on the GiftList webpage, on the Apple store, or on the Google Play store.

With this update, GiftList adds the "I'm Buying" section to help users view and manage the gifts that they've reserved from loved ones' lists and make sure they buy everything before Christmas. Searching for gifts has also become easier with the integration of Amazon, Walmart, and other major brands to directly search those sites and add items to a user's own GiftList or add it as a suggestion on a loved ones' list.

With GiftList's new Google Chrome & Mozilla Firefox Extensions, saving gift ideas is made simple and easy directly on a web browser. Once the extension is installed users can add any product from any site directly to their lists so friends and family know what they want and where to buy it.

About GiftList:

GiftList was built to help streamline gift giving by helping users manage what they want and what they are getting for friends/family. GiftList is the only gift registry app that includes group chat so friends/family can plan together what to get for a loved one.
