

Noteboom Tutorials is now Dan's Tutorials

Published on 11/13/19

Noteboom Tutorials today announces that they have rebranded into Dan's Tutorials. Dan's Tutorials has the same highly rated tutorials recorded by the same owner, Dan Wassink, it's just a more personal name with a new, better designed, and faster website. The tutorials, which focus on the Mac, iPad, iPhone, Apple Watch, and Apple TV, are now better organized, reminders are sent to members before renewals, and members of Dan's Tutorials can pause their subscriptions, among other new features.

Holland, Michigan - Noteboom Productions, Ltd. today is proud to announce that Noteboom Tutorials, their site that hosts over 1,000 lessons and tips for the Mac, iPad, iPhone, Apple Watch, and Apple TV, has been rebranded as Dan's Tutorials. These tutorials are designed to give users a better understanding of how to effectively use Apple devices, and now they are hosted on an all-new site with new features members have been asking for, including reminders being sent before renewal.

"I am excited to announce Dan's Tutorials", said Dan Wassink, President of Noteboom Productions, Ltd. "I've been working on this for a while. It started as a simple host change to make it faster. That went well, so it got me thinking 'what else could I do?' As an example, members have been asking for reminders before subscription renewals. How could I do this? It required new tools. So I started rebuilding my site as a side project. One thing lead to another, and before I even knew it, I had a faster website with better features for my members. In addition to sending out reminders before renewals, the new site allows members to pause there subscription, they can take note with each lesson, and it offers multiple memberships. With multiple memberships, a member can buy additional memberships for family or friends."

Dan added, "This also got me thinking about the name. When I created Noteboom Productions, I wanted to portray a larger company, even though it was just me. But that does not fit in with today's thinking; now you want to be more personal. Well, my members already know me as Dan, not as Noteboom Productions or Noteboom Tutorials. When they send a message or initiate a chat, the reply is from me, Dan. So I registered danstutorials.com, and started branding the new site as Dan's Tutorials." Dan also added, "The feedback I've received has been great!."

Membership to Dan's Tutorials is subscription-based and includes instant access to all the tutorials. Membership also includes access to new tutorials as they are released. Users can watch the tutorials on any device - Mac, iPad, iPhone, Apple Watch, and Apple TV. Members can favorite tutorials they are taking, making them easier to go back to. Also, the site tracks a user's progress by tracking individual lessons as they are viewed. New with Dan's Tutorials, members can now take notes with each lesson.
