Alexandria, Virginia - Electronic Team Inc. revealed their new product for any level of user. JustStream 1.0 is an application for easy streaming of video and audio files from a Mac and mirroring of a Mac display on TV screens. Chromecast, Apple TV, smart TV, and other DLNA-certified devices are supported by JustStream.

Streaming with JustStream from a Mac to a large TV screen is very intuitive and easy to do as long as the devices are on the same network. Virtually any file format is supported by the app including the popular AVI, FLV, MKV, 3GP, MP4, MKV, MOV, AVI, WMV, MP3, WAV. For those cases when a video format is not supported by a receiving device, JustStream offers transcoding feature that allows converting unsupported formats to supported ones on the go without interrupting the streaming process.

When there is a need to stream multiple files non-stop, one can create playlists with JustStream, which will ensure continuous streaming of all files added to the playlist. Both external and embedded types of audio tracks are supported. Same with subtitles: multiple subtitle formats are supported, and external and embedded types of subtitles are included. When streaming to Chromecast or Chromecast Ultra users can also change subtitle font, size and color.

Mirroring of Mac display is another big part of JustStream's functionality. One can mirror videos, presentations, audio and even software apps to large TV screens with both video and audio included in the mirrored output. JustStream supports smart TV, Chromecast and Apple TV protocols.
