

Free Imposition Software Now Available for Adobe InDesign Users

Published on 01/30/20

Meadows Publishing Solutions has released an updated version of their Meadows Productivity Suite, a completely free set of software utilities for Adobe InDesign. The MPS Pro Suite provides advanced imposition features that allow users to quickly create multi-up imposition layouts of graphics, PDF files, or InDesign documents. The software provides full control over content placement and positioning, and is also now compatible with Adobe InDesign 2020 for Macintosh and Windows.

Schaumburg, Illinois - Meadows Publishing Solutions today announced a new release of their Meadows Productivity Suite software, a completely Free set of software tools for Adobe InDesign that have been designed to streamline multi-up impositions, and other publishing tasks. The new release is now compatible with all Adobe InDesign 2020 and macOS Catalina systems.

About the Free Productivity Suite:

The MPS Pro Suite currently includes an advanced multi-up imposition utility, allowing users to quickly create multi-up imposition layouts of graphics, PDF files, or InDesign documents. The process is driven by a user interface that allows for the specification of trim size, bleed, spacing, and rotation of the imposed elements.

As the imposed elements are placed, crop and bleed marks can also be added automatically, and assigned to InDesign layers as they are created. For two-page impositions, the user can choose from one of several duplex modes, which ensures the imposed content will back up properly when printed. Control over content placement and fitting is also provided via a set of preference options.

The MPS Pro Suite comes with a comprehensive set of documentation, including a set of tutorial files. In addition, online help for the software is being made available via the Meadows support ticketing system.

To receive a free copy of the MPS Pro Suite, users simply visit the Meadows web site and fill in the short registration form. A confirmation email is then sent with all of the download and installation details. Please visit our online press center for logos, images, and product information.
