Zinnia is a journaling app that incorporates the creativity of a sketch pad with the practical features of Bullet Journaling(R). Zinnia will be a daily companion that will encourage mindful activities such as sketching, planning, collaging, and tracking the things you want to do today and in the future. Zinnia's wide assortment of tools includes washi tape, stickers, habit trackers and calendars that bring the look and feel of traditional notebook journaling to the iPad. Users can explore dozens of hand-made, ready-to-use page templates and themed art bundles in combination with built-in drawing tools, using the brush technology from Pixite's renowned coloring app, Pigment. Unlike many other journaling apps, Zinnia lets you customize the look and feel of pages, so revisiting your journals is as rewarding as browsing your favorite photo albums.

"Zinnia is the next level of journaling," said Eugene Kaneko, Pixite's co-founder. "It's a fast, fun, and creative way to document the things that matter most. Mindfulness has never been easier, Zinnia is a great way to track your behavior, change bad habits and recognize the good ones."
