FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Frankfurt/Main, Germany - September 23, 2007 - SendStation Systems is giving away 1,000 of its PocketDock FW iPod adapters, which allow users to charge the iPod or iPhone using any standard 6-pin FireWire cable. Offer available while supplies last or until October 1, 2007, limited to one PocketDock per person.

The PocketDock FireWire is an indispensable add-on for the iPod, Apple's sensational and wildly successful MP3 player. The tiny PocketDock FireWire lets you connect the new iPod's docking port to a standard 6-pin FireWire cable, thus delivering on the iPod's promise of freedom and independence.

Utilize existing accessories: Users who have already bought accessories for previous-model iPods, such as a car charger, the PocketDock will let you use them with the latest model. The PocketDock is compatible with the following iPod models:

- * iPhone
- * iPod touch
- * iPod classic
- * iPod nano (all generations)
- * 5G iPod (video)
- * 4G iPod (click-wheel)
- * 3G iPod (touch-wheel)
- * iPod mini

SendStation Systems is also offering its PocketDock AV for a limited time 33% off, that's USD 24.75, compared to the regular USD 36.95. The ultra-compact, thumb-sized iPod adapter provides connections for USB, line out audio, as well as both composite and S-Video, allowing you to sync & charge, attach the iPod to a home stereo and output iPod videos in supreme quality on TVs or projectors.
