Los Angeles, California - 24x7digital today is proud to introduce TeachMe: Kindergarten 1.0, their new children's learning game for the iPhone and iPod Touch. TeachMe: Kindergarten is an educational app which teaches four different age appropriate subjects to kindergarten aged children: sight words, addition, subtraction and spelling. Parents can select which subjects they want, set different difficulty levels, and even choose specific questions. Parents can review performance history for each subject to check how their child is doing.

TeachMe: Kindergarten keeps children engaged with a unique reward system where children earn a coin for every three correct answers. Coins can then be used to purchase stickers to place in fun sticker scenes. Sticker scenes can be exported as wallpaper or emailed to family and friends. The simple and intuitive user interface is designed to be child friendly, which allows children to play without help from an adult. An animated teacher (Mimi Mouse) gives verbal instructions and feedback to the child which makes learning fun.

Feature Highlights:

- * 4 different sticker reward scenes: beach, underwater reef, pirate cove, city
- * Over 70 different stickers for adding to scenes
- * Save learning information for up to four children
- * Select which subjects are displayed for each child
- * Turn on/off specific questions within a subject
- * Change the number of correct questions to earn a reward
