

New Combination Handle/Stand Designed for Apple Notebook Computers

Published on 09/24/07

Fins-Up, LLC announces a new aesthetic, single piece combination handle/stand designed exclusively for Apple notebook computers. The streamlined design of the FIN is aesthetically unobtrusive, with only a single piece to install. The powder-coated finish matches that of your notebook exactly, becoming literally an extension of the computer. Manufactured from durable, aircraft-grade aluminum the FIN will transport your laptop safely. It is simple to install, and to remove if needed.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Boise, Idaho - September 24, 2007 - The FIN Makes Your Portable Computer Even More Convenient. Apple notebooks are widely known and coveted for their sleek and slick design. But these same attributes can make moving around the office difficult, carrying your computer, notebooks, and of course, a precariously balanced cup of coffee.

Now using your laptop can be safe and convenient, with the FIN! The FIN is a portable computer handle and stand in one, making typing easy and comfortable, and enabling you to literally pick up your computer and go.

The streamlined design of the FIN is aesthetically unobtrusive, with only a single piece to install. The powder-coated finish matches that of your notebook exactly, becoming literally an extension of the computer.

Manufactured from durable, aircraft-grade aluminum the FIN will transport your laptop safely. It is simple to install, and to remove if needed.

The FIN also acts as an ergonomic stand for your computer, making typing easy, comfortable, and efficient. Air can move freely between your notebook and the stand, dissipating heat from the computer.

The FIN is available for the following Apple(R) notebook models:

- MacBook
- MacBook Pro 15" and 17"
- PowerBook G4 Aluminum 12", 15" and 17"
- And coming soon for the PowerBook G4 Titanium 15"
