Kharkov, Ukraine - NIX Solutions Limited is proud to announce uPackinglist 1.3.5, an update to their popular packing and travel organizer for iPhone and iPod touch. Designed specifically to leverage the iPhone's unique capabilities, uPackinglist turns packing and travel preparation into a fast and convenient activity for any journey, business trip, vacation, or outing.

Whether it's a family picnic, fishing, or going to Disney Land, uPackinglist features a friendly and appealing interface that requires minimum actions. Easily create and maintain an unlimited number of customizable lists to the control packing process. To help organize things, uPackinglist sports a carefully thought-out catalog that contains almost 300 items. Users can collapse or expand any category they need, or add new items to customize lists with just one tap.

When the list is ready, users can proceed to packing right away, and effortlessly mark items as processed with just one tap. Additionally, uPackinglist offers a nice presentation of the packing progress that is fully customizable, supporting various background themes, as well as the ability to change category icons to suit different needs. Users can email their lists to colleagues or family members too.
