

Quapps Interactive releases Burp Speak 1.0 for iPhone and iPod touch

Published on 12/15/09

UK based Quapps Interactive today announces Burp Speak 1.0 for iPhone and iPod touch. Burp

Speak allows you to select words and add them into sentences before pressing play to hear the sentence played back in real burps. Each word has been burped and recorded exclusive for this application. Select your words and form your sentence then simply press play to hear the entire sentence spoken back using 100% genuine burps.

Buckley, United Kingdom - BurpSpeak is a burp application that is VERY different from the others. Why? Because BurpSpeak is the first application to allow you to select your words to form sentences and have it spoken back using genuine burps. Imagine how your partner will react when you tell her that you love her using burps!! Yep, Score. Imagine burping your order at a restaurant or takeaway! Imagine being able to reply to an annoying person using only burps and play them at their own game! With BurpSpeak this is a VERY simple task to pull off.

Select your words and form your sentence then simply press play to hear the entire sentence spoken back using 100% genuine burps. Every single one of the words burped in our app is a 100% genuine burp from our team and especially created for this application.

We have burped over 280 words so far for BurpSpeak and want to burp many more so please use the review section to request more words and we will add every legible word into our dictionary that you require. We really do want this app to be a success and will add every legible word requested in as regular updates as we can get accepted. Each app sold may go towards a new can of coke to ensure maximum gas when burping our words.

Device Requirements:

* iPhone or iPod Touch 3.1.2 or later
