Green & Slimy Software today announced that it will be offering preorders for Thoughts, their upcoming note taking application for Mac OS X due to be released in January 2010. As part of the preorder users will receive two applications for free: Yum, a recipe manager, and Family, a genealogy application to create family trees. As a further bonus all customers who blog or tweet about the bundle will receive the batch image editor ResizeMe for free as well.

Vienna, Austria - Green & Slimy Software today announced that it will be offering preorders for Thoughts, their upcoming note taking application for Mac OS X due to be released in January 2010. As part of the preorder users will receive two applications for free: Yum, a recipe manager, and Family, a genealogy application to create family trees. As a further bonus all customers who blog or tweet about the bundle will receive the batch image editor ResizeMe for free as well.

Dietmar Kerschner, user interface designer and co-founder of Green & Slimy, believes Thoughts will be well received by users, "Thoughts offers a new paradigm in organizing your notes, combining a wholly new user experience based on the notebook metaphor with the powerful features of a modern word processor".

Thoughts key features:

- * Organize and categorize notes into pages, books and shelves
- * Link to other pages in the notebook, documents on your Mac and websites
- * Powerful text formatting
- * Export to common file formats such as Microsoft Word, PDF and OpenOffice

Minimum Requirements:

- * Mac OS X Version 10.5 or higher
- * Universal Binary for PowerPC and Intel

Pricing and Availability:

The Thoughts Preorder Bundle is EUR 24 and available on the Thoughts website until mid-January 2010.
