iPhonky today released Gangster Rocco 1.0 for iPhone and iPod Touch users. The game app offers enough challenge to be fun and interesting, yet has uncomplicated maneuverability for easy play. Gangster Rocco is simple fun that every member of the family will enjoy addictively. Gangster Rocco is a hip gangster mouse, looking for some cheese in an alley. Unfortunately, the alley is full of cats who'd love nothing more than to catch a mouse for dinner.

Waretown, NJ - Announcing that iPhonky, the developers of Gangster Rocco, has launched a delightfully simple application that every member of the family will enjoy addictively. The game app offers enough challenge to be fun and interesting, yet has uncomplicated maneuverability for easy play. Gangster Rocco is simple fun for all ages, even children.

The app has a simple concept. Gangster Rocco is a hip gangster mouse, looking for some cheese in an alley. Unfortunately, the alley is full of cats who'd love nothing more than to catch a mouse for dinner. Rocco has to avoid them and the traps they've laid, while picking up red and yellow cheeses for points and the win.

Gangster Rocco is an addictive game app that some have compared to Frogger. Its interface is easy enough for children to use, as maneuvering the mouse around the cats and traps is just a matter of tilting an iPhone the right way. Learning to play Gangster Rocco may improve a child's eye-hand co-ordination.

There are five levels and three difficulty settings to keep players engaged for hours at a time. Each level advance increases the playing challenge by revving up the number and speed of oncoming felines. Rocco only has three lives. Users will be a champion if they can keep him alive until the last level is completed. This simple, attractive little Gangster Rocco app is sure to be a winner for family playing fun.
